Directive 2011/65/EU
RoHS – Restriction of the use of certain Hazardous Substances

Dear Sir or Madam,

Directive 2011/65/EU of the European Parliament and of the Council of 8 June 2011 is intended to restrict the use of certain hazardous substances in electrical and electronic equipment ("RoHS" – Restriction of the use of certain Hazardous Substances). The directive is a piece of European legislation. It is currently being transposed into German law through the Electrical and Electronic Equipment Substances Regulation.

In its own interest and in the interest of a high level of product safety, Gusstechnik Schopfheim GmbH & Co. KG takes its obligations under Directive 2011/65/EU very seriously. We therefore constantly strive to ensure that all products we manufacture comply with the requirements of Directive 2011/65/EU, and that no materials in the products we manufacture contain any of the harmful substances listed in Directive 2011/65/EU, or these are included only in the raw material as an alloy content within the permitted limits, subject to the exemptions listed in Annex III of Directive 2011/65/EU.

If you have any further questions about how Directive 2011/65/EU is applied in our company, we would be delighted to assist.

Kind regards,
Gusstechnik Schopfheim GmbH & Co. KG

Chief Executive
